INTRODUCTION

Below, in absolute simplicity, I will explain the WHAT, the HOW and the WHY of what an atom is, fully in line with Nature's simplicity of field pressure mediation, Occam's razor, and which explains all observed phenomena of atoms. The defunct Saturnian & cloud models of the atom are in fact, laughably so, atomistic. What else would an Atomist dream up other than something Atomistic!? Likewise I will easily dispense with both the Neutron and Electron. Convoluted irrational insanity cannot be enjoined by Nature as to the mechanics of any and all atoms.

Likewise, and IMPORTANTLY, matter (hydrogen and compounds of same, all other atoms) is reconciled with and AS light; something others have been trying to do for thousands of years! Now fields are reconciled with the Aether, and both of these unified and reconciled with both light and matter. This is grand unification; and Nature would not have it any other way.

THE ACCURATE MAGNETO-ATOMIC MODEL OF THE ATOM

Accurately the model of the atom is what I have deemed the Magneto-Atomic model which easily explains ALL phenomena of atoms and interactions, follows both logic and Occam's razor of how an atom MUST exist. An atom is a circular frequency non-propagating energy dynamo. It explains the particle collider, the MRI, chemical and molecular bonding, atomic radius, nuclear cascade reactions. ALL of these are explained simply by the accurate ATOMIC MODEL I have laid out to you here. In fact (see image below) all atoms in simplex appear identical to the magnet under the supercell. The only four variables of all atoms, which are compounded hydrogen, are of these four and gradations between: Low capacitance and low mass. High Capacitance and high mass. High mass and stable capacitance. High mass and high capacitance.

Gravity and electrostatic centripetal motion are both the exact same thing, likewise the principle of matter/mass follows BOTH gravity and its bonding nature (to and with other atoms) due to electrostatic charge that defines the atomic dynamo. Its not more complicated than this.

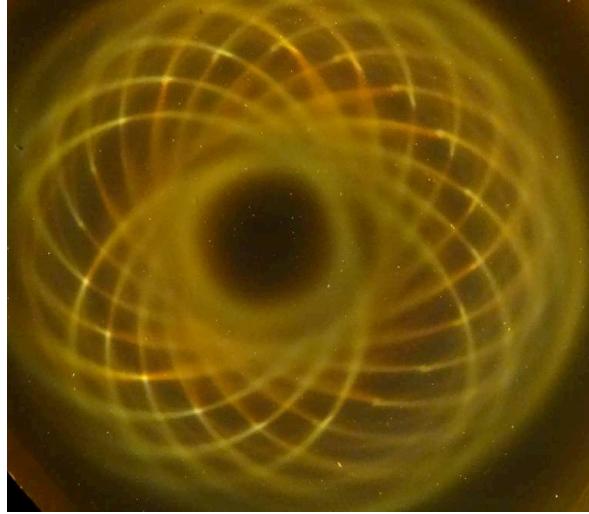

The cathode is the area of influence of an atom, the cold (=creates space) cathode effect of capacitance diminution (=discharge) which defines the "shield" or perimeter of all atoms.

The curvilinear "force cloud" of the magnetic field in the image below is the wrongly assumed "electron cloud" of the atom. A magnet is 100% identical in its field mechanics to any and all atoms, period. The magnetic field AROUND and OUTSIDE of the physical magnet (ATOMIC NUCLEUS) is sphere of interaction of the magnet and the atom (in molecular interactions). There ARE NO electrons spinning around a nucleus anymore than there is 'SOMETHING' spinning around OUTSIDE of the magnet. This is an Aether pressure gradient of CHARGE (which is where the fantasy of the electron was dreamt up, by Atomists).

The nucleus is the anode, and its charge 'volume/shell' is its cathode (likewise the energy impotency which 'creates space' of the magnetic domain of all atoms) of the magneto-dielectric field. There are no "electrons to fall into the nucleus" (a HUGE mental problem of all defunct models of the atom!) any more so than there is a magnetic field around a magnet, which can "fall into the magnet". Humorously the image below of the magnet under the supercell looks very much so Saturnian, like the defunct nonsense model of the atom, however, there are no "spinning bodies" around and outside the magnet, no electrons, no neutrons, just proton-dynamos which are propagation-barrier high capacitance light. This is likewise pure holographic and fractal self-similarity (and likewise too incommensurability of the conjugate fields, the cathode/magnetism and anode/dielectric/protons). ALL dynamos create energy-dissipations, or centrifugal magnetic force vectors; this of course is the womb of the creation of what humans call the magnetic field. The prime mover (the proton, or light-cyclone), and the MOVEMENT (=magnetism) ITSELF.

Nobody ignorantly has thought that “electrons are spinning in a frequency” around ‘photons’ as per the light circuit. The so-called photon is a rarefaction-compression pulse perturbation of the Aether, which has a resultant curvilinear energy circuit around same, wrongly ideated as “transverse electrical-magnetic” phenomenon. The ‘blinking torus’ (which IS LIGHT, i.e. the coaxial circuit of light) with set frequency is the PRE-THRESHOLD energy circuit of proto-matter. Proto-matter is light, matter (=HYDROGEN) is THRESHOLD-PROPAGATION light; its just THAT simple.

Light and matter are reconciled as ONE thing with the modality of propagation threshold capacitances. C is just the ‘speed limit’ of the Aethers elasticity to density ratio, also called the Aethers hysteresis. But this speed is not speed of something moving, rather the movement of the Aether itself AS AGAINST ITSELF (=its barrier of propagation). Nature’s ‘battery’, the atom (fundamental one being hydrogen) has its nucleus as the dynamo-anode (+) and its volume/shell/radius/charging potential (-) as cathode. A more simple battery cannot exist, and logically so Nature’s battery is the humble hydrogen atom of which forms the base-blocks of ALL ATOMS compounded by solar ‘furnaces’ into helium etc.

Importantly in speaking about the nucleal ANODE (what defunct science calls the atomic nucleus) were speaking about the discharge-ground of the atomic energy circuit. Any and all ground(ings) are a counterspatial sink, an acceleration towards a force-null. Gravity is an Aether-rarefaction tension discharge; a mutual acceleration to a torsion-null locus, quite literally also an anti-field. Magnetism’s ground is the center of the torus, that being a dielectric-null, or counterspace, i.e. Aether-Rest-locus. All force vectors are curvilinear such that all field modalities curve towards a ground (Aether-null, or rest-locus).

Any and all grounds are vectors towards non-Cartesian rest (=Aether potential). Gravity and magnetism are both point-source field (or anti-field in the case of so-called gravity) modalities. All grounds are force-sinks (field modality terminators). All fields curve towards rest, and all rest vectors are force-sink null-points. It is of great note that space is not a ground or terminator of any field or force, such that space is the inverse of counterspace itself. Logically and necessitatively so nothing “grounds/terminates in space”-Ken W.

LIGHT TO PROTON, OR CAPACITANCE-THRESHOLD LIGHT

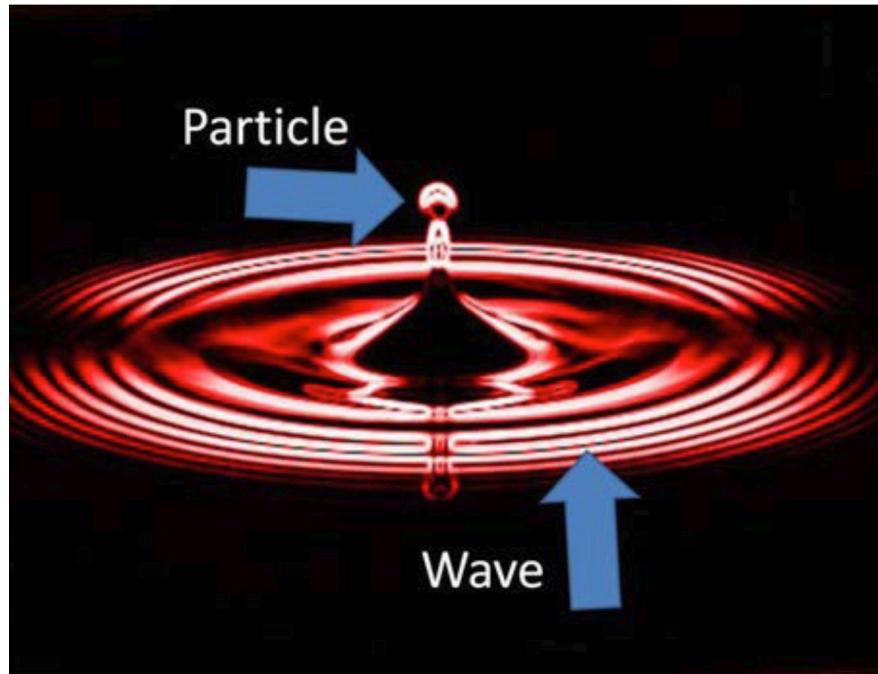

The wavefront (of an Aether modality, in this case LIGHT) is the mutually compounded simplex structure of both light and the base atom (HYDROGEN), however unlike the wave-drop image below, hydrogens wavefront is spherical, the electrostatic dynamo whose “air” of said volume is magnetism. The speed at which something can easily pass thru water would be its “induction barrier” just as anyone knows that smacking your flat hand at high speed upon water hurts, and is no different than doing same to concrete. This is the MAXIMUM rate of induction of light at which propagation no longer can occur; its just that simple. This, at this point, is the birth of the foundation of ALL atoms, that being hydrogen.

What humans call C (the “speed of light”) is the HYSTERESIS of the Aether, the maximum rate of INDUCTION of the creation of light, which is a compounded energy circuit we call light. Tesla called this the “ratio between elasticity and density...of the Aether”. Light does NOT have a speed, is not an emission, is NOT a duality, is not a wave, nor a particle, & is NOT travelling from point A to point B. All of modern quantum and relativity are based in these lies and are therefore utter trash, which as Tesla said “is doomed to oblivion” and further Tesla said these people were those who “could see deeply, but NOT CLEARLY!”

What can we in SIMPLE call the proton then, since Nature is a simple girl, the most simple in fact. The proton is an Aether vortex node, or a "light cyclone". Natures SMALLEST DYNAMO which, like a magnet, has its OWN field which is OUTSIDE OF itself, identical to any and all magnets.

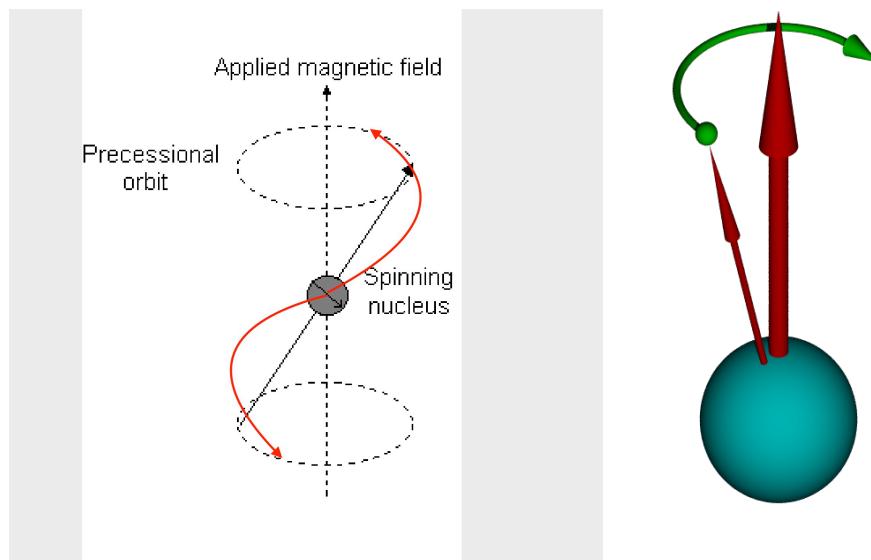

"There are no nuclear particles at atoms centers, In fact there are only holes there like the 'eye' in a cyclone"-Walter Russell

"THAT WHICH WE CALL MATTER IS MERELY VORTICES OR WHIRPOOLS IN THE AETHER" -TESLA

The full 3D extrapolation of polarization vectors which are all curvilinear is the hyperboloid-torus which by definition IS the sphere of the atom. This phenomena is called gyro-magnetic precession. The conjugate principle which is UNITY ITSELF is the magneto-dielectric anode-cathode model of the entire universe, including the lowly atom.

Magnetic torque (also called Larmor precession) is the necessitated precession or (accurately) field friction between the magnetic and the dielectric in which magnetism generates phase (which is why there is a proportional disparity of a ratio of 1 to Phi between the North and South poles of a magnet) and eventually enough torsion that causes flips of polarity over time, just the same as when a gyroscope spins down it will precess more and more until it literally flips itself over. Field torque is necessitated as the byproduct of a magnetic toroid and said resultant field friction generates torque. This is the very same cause of the Earths precession and likewise cause of flipping of the earth's poles from time to time. Field friction is the charge-potential of any and all atoms.

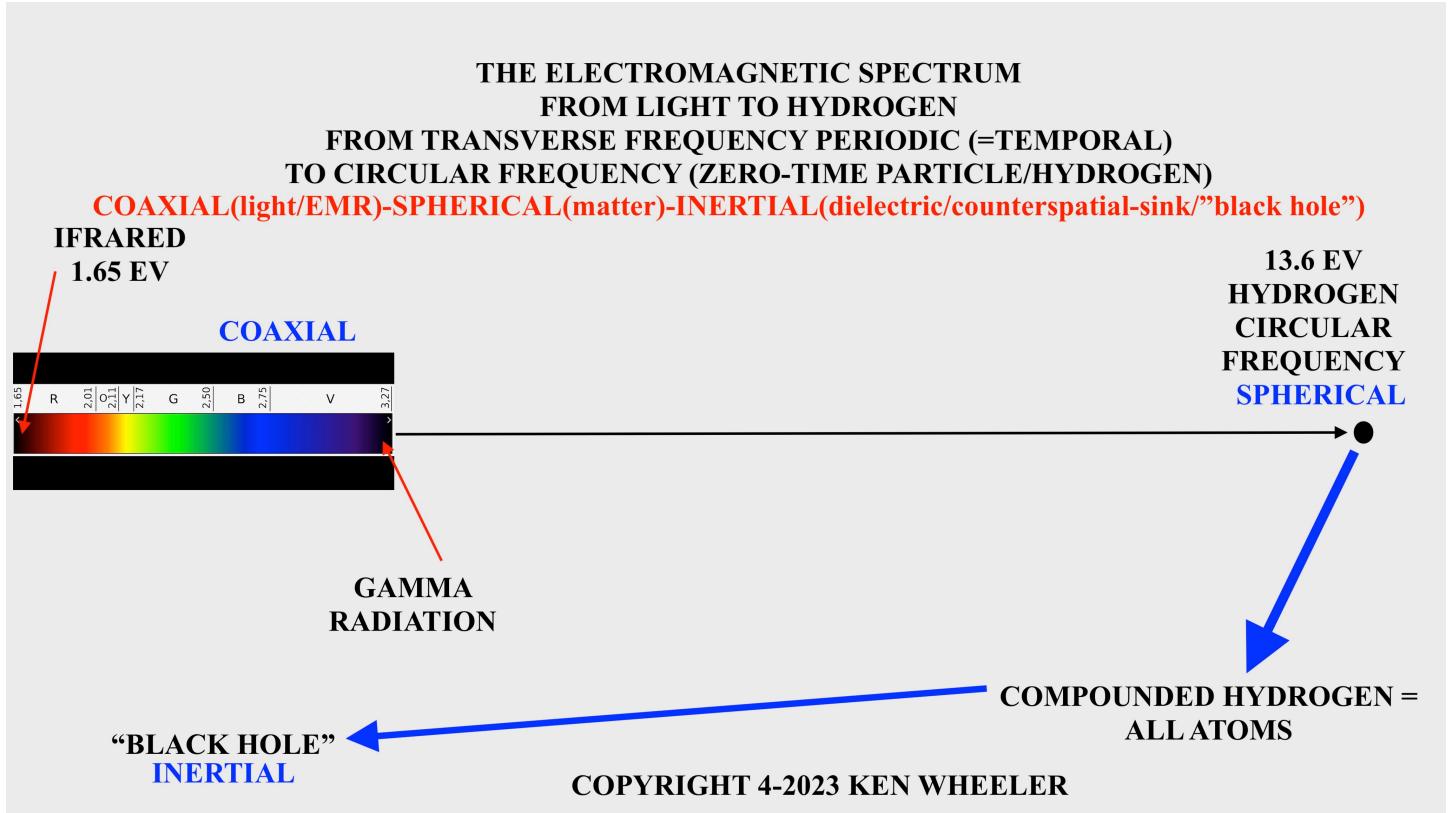

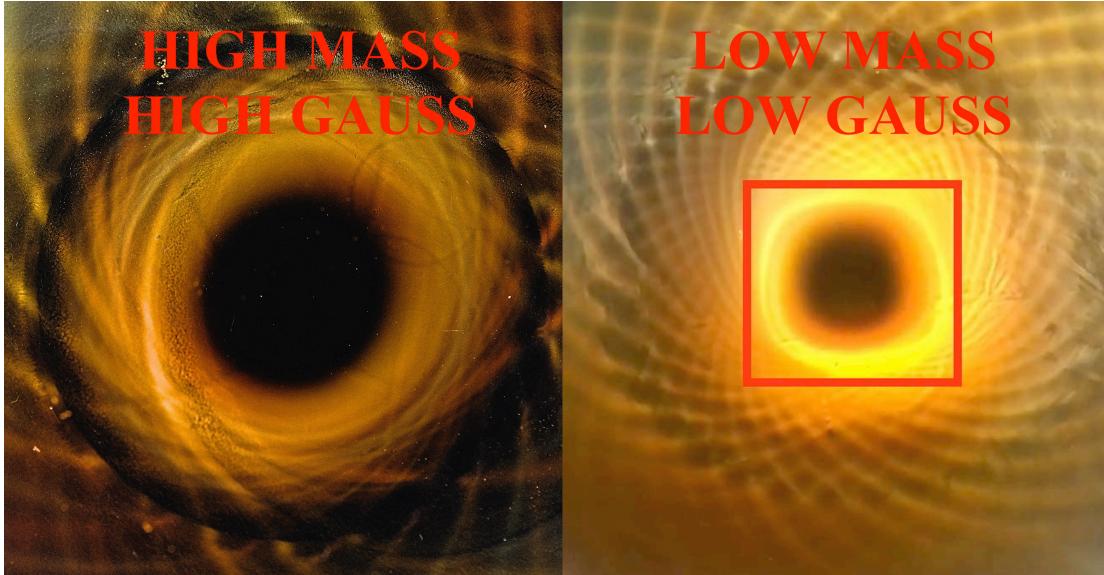

MAGNETO-ATOMIC MODEL FIELD PRESSURE LOGIC

A more powerful magnet has a larger black hole at the center, and a smaller magnetic field, atoms likewise ALSO follow this simplex field pressure dynamic.

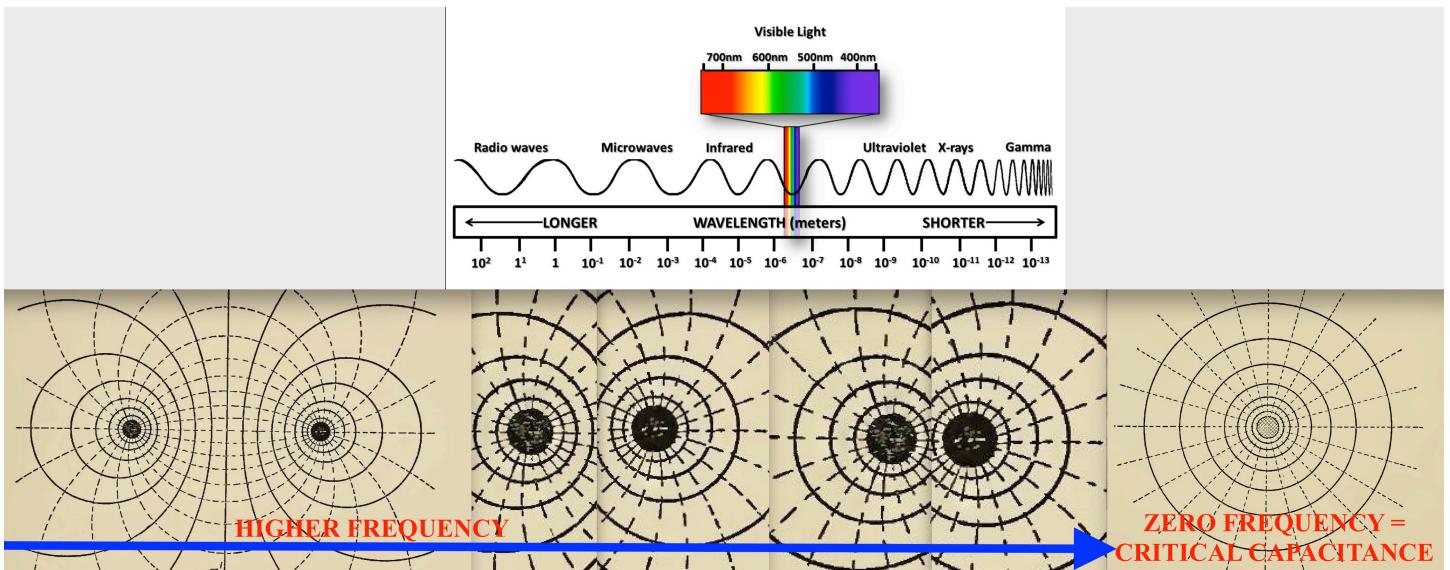

Small mass low gauss (=helium, boron, iron etc.) Small mass and high gauss (hydrogen, sodium, potassium etc.). Large mass and low gauss (silver, gold, mercury etc.). Large mass and high gauss (uranium, plutonium etc.). The higher the gauss, just like a magnet, which operates identically as does an atom, has a huge "black hole" in the center (=capacitance /nucleus) and a smaller magnetic dynamo-shell around same. The danger comes from high gauss, high (nuclear) mass atoms such as Radon, uranium, neptunium, plutonium etc.. Their nucleal kinetic potential is very powerful and their Gaussian fields are very weak, akin to a pack of ravenous tigers being held back by a paper cage; which is the likewise reason these same are very radioactive, short lived and unstable. I have seen large powerful magnets (monster ones) depolarize over a short time, and bifurcate their magnetic fields. If these magnets were to be able to be made even MORE powerful, they would fly apart like a tightly wound clockworks device.

The parameters with gradations between is the same for magnets and their fields as it is for ALL atoms: Low capacitance and low mass. High Capacitance and low mass. High mass and stable capacitance. High mass and high capacitance

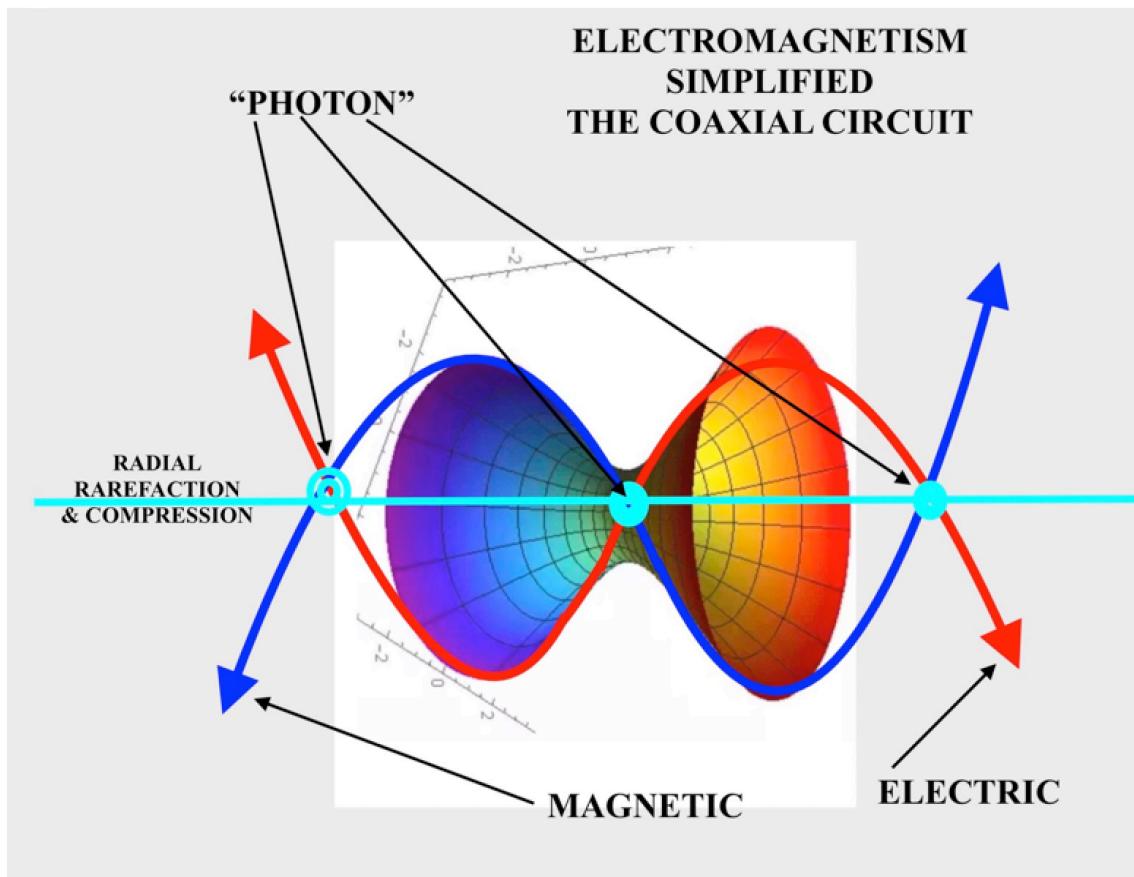

HOLOGRAPHIC SELF-SIMILARITY AT THE LEVEL OF ALL ATOMS, THE HOLE IS A MIRAGE OF THE Nucleal particles themselves. A proton is merely a "light-cyclone" of ultra-high capacitance that has met the "brick wall" of elasticity and density of the Aether and is no longer conventional light, but now, as I humorously call it, "hard light", or ultra-high capacitance light.
THERE IS OF COURSE A HYPER-RATIONAL EXPLANATION FOR WHAT GAMMA RADIATION IS SO DANGEROUS AND, AS ALL SCIENTISTS WILL CONFESS "ACT ALMOST LIKE MATTER ITSELF". This reason is that GAMMA is just below the threshold where hydrogen itself is born!

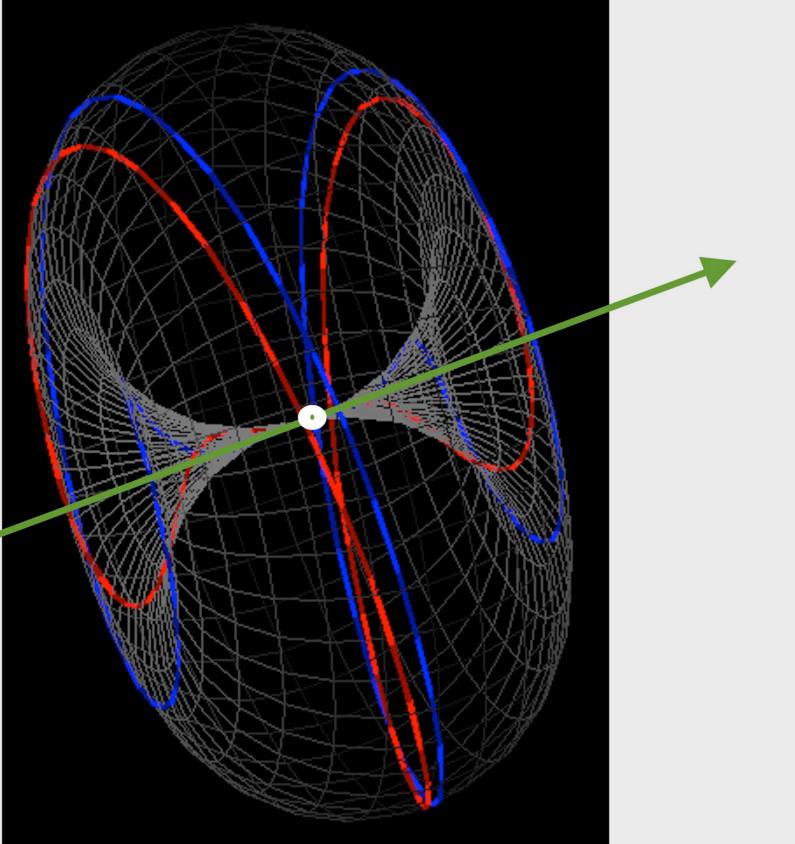

FROM LIGHT TO GAMMA TO ULTRA-HIGH ENERGY LIGHT AT 13.6EV, I.E. HYDROGEN, AND LASTLY ULTRA-HIGH MASS DIELECTRIC-SINK SO-CALLED “BLACK HOLE”. INCREDIBLY AT THE END, THE PROCESS REPEATS.

THE SHRINKING TORUS (=FORCE/MAGNETISM/AMPERAGE) OF HIGHER AND HIGHER CAPACITANCE HAS A THRESHOLD WHERE FREQUENCY IS CIRCULAR, IN WHICH CASE YOU HAVE HYDROGEN. THIS FORM OF LIGHT IS UNABLE TO PROPAGATE BECAUSE FREQUENCY IS NOW ZERO. THIS IS CRITICAL CAPACITANCE.

THE CONJUGATE REPRESENTATION OF LIGHT BETWEEN THE MAGNETIC AND THE DIELECTRIC, THIS OSCILLATION IS THE LIGHT CIRCUIT. THE HIGHER THE CAPACITANCE, THE SMALLER THE AMPERAGE, OR THE SMALLER THE SPATIAL VOLUME OF THE TORUS ABOVE. THE CIRCUIT OSCILLATION IS BETWEEN THE TOROIDAL TRANSVERSE AND THE HYPERBOLOIDAL DIELECTRIC RAREFACTION AND COMPRESSION. TOGETHER THESE FORM THE COAXIAL CIRCUIT WE CALL LIGHT.

"I consider this extremely important. Light cannot be another else but a longitudinal disturbance in the Ether, involving alternate compressions and rarefactions. In other words, light can be nothing else than a sound wave in the Ether" – Nikola Tesla

THE PRIMARY ATOM UPON WHICH ALL ATOMS ARE COMPOUNDS OF. HYDROGEN. OR, GALACTIC JETS, HYDROGEN NURSERIES

I made the accurate prediction over five years ago that they would discover that high capacitance light would cause the formation of matter, and low and behold, 2 years ago that was discovered from constructive interference from two high power lasers which did EXACTLY THAT. Nature does this another way, called BOTH (or either) galactic jets or astrophysical jets which are emitting trillions of tons of, what?, yes indeed, ultra-high energy light (or capacitance threshold light) we humans call hydrogen! To get ALL other atoms you need only "cook" (humor!) these hydrogen atoms in a stellar 'furnace' to get helium and the rest. These black holes (not actually holes of course) act like Galactic-sized-Protons whose capacitance is so utterly high, they generate "light" many magnitudes above that of 'normal light', or EMR. Of course, this 'light' is, rationally and logically, hydrogen.

The ratio between elasticity and density of the Aether has a "speed limit" where propagation no longer occurs, this is of course the "viscosity barrier" of the Aether itself, respectively this is its hysteresis, as meant the rate of induction where INDUCTION NO LONGER OCCURS. This high energy multiplicative of light (well above Gamma) is where a circular frequency occurs and propagation NO LONGER OCCURS, this is hydrogen!

A super-mass with NO magnitude. GEOMETRY: INERTIA (plane of inertia). The torsion plane of the black hole's radius corresponds to the hydrogen emission (galactic jet/ astrophysical jets). Dielectric INVERSION of a super-mass is a counterspatial-sink. The perfect energy-geometry in the universe; both self-feeding and self-replicating. The only expansion (from increase in mass) against the magnetic torus is an expanding inertial plane. A so-called black hole would more accurately be called a dielectric-sink.

I made the reductive discovery many years ago that light and matter are 100% reconciled, thereby bringing even FINER simplicity to the Universe, as must be the case. Well, two years ago constructive interference between two high power lasers produced matter, as I predicted many years prior. Galactic jets either from galaxies (which have black holes at their center, or nave) or black holes in standalone are the point source field constructs, that are the "sausage factories" for producing trillions of tons of hydrogen, i.e. propagation-barrier UHC (ultra high capacitance) light. Lower grades of mass-matrix formations in the universe are respectively 'factories' of X-rays, Gamma etc. in the case of white dwarfs, neutron stars etc.

Well let the truth of SUPREME simplicity declare what you get when you have a super-incredible light factory like a black hole? You get hydrogen itself. These are called galactic jets, or also called astrophysical jets. In great wonder and divine simplicity, the factory is literally making future factories. This reminds me of what I have seen, a room full of 100s of 3D printers making and printing out parts for more 3D printers! Like water down the drain, heads off to be treated and returns out of the faucets and shower-heads yet again.

So too with natures matter and light. Perfect and divine recycling. However the matter that ‘falls down the drain’ of a ‘black hole’ is NOT recycled as the same matter or deconstructed matter it formerly was, rather as the very energy that it is, washed clean of its former ‘existence’. To call these things ‘black holes’ of course is utterly absurd since its neither a ‘hole’ nor something ‘black’, they’re gravity or dielectric ‘sinks’ where matter no longer exists but its footprint of influence still does ‘exist’. IN TRUE a ‘black hole’ is hardly different than a flashlight, only rather on a galactic scale. Feeding off the matter-power-center of its enormous mass, which feeds a high beam of light out of ‘either end’ in the form of hydrogen. An alien advanced race probably would call these phenomena something on the order of a “cosmic nexus”, or better still “stellar generator”. Eventually the ‘battery’ which feeds these galactic “hydrogen flashlights” will also dissipate, but NOT before its energy “battery” has throw back out the very blocks of all atoms and future matter. All atoms are compounded hydrogen of course! Stars of course “brews” hydrogen into ALL ATOMS, including gold itself. Genuine galactic alchemy!

At the divinely simple level, the cosmos has these matter-recyclers, who in conglomerates engage in fusion (stars) and shed normal-energy light upon the cosmos, but when these fusion generators become too large, they vanish from space (which itself is and energy/Aether shadow), to recycle again. It goes from light, to mass, to light generation (stars) conglomerates, to a cosmic-nexus, or waypoint, and starts all over again.

Discovering the identical bell-disk, or double-hyperbola-disk nature of galactic jets came after the fact of discovery of same from experimentation with magnetism, I did not model magnetism upon the this galactic architectures. Pure discovery and insight into recognizing this special spatial-hyperbola conjugate relationship as seen in galactic formations came later, and proved the timeless adage that “in the very small you can see the very big, and vice-versa”.

Imagine a “magnet” (a dielectric object with resultant magnetic spatial Z-axis phenomena), except a trillion trillion times larger and equally more powerful. As predicted by myself and circumstantially so by a few others, such a perfect-point intersection is the creation of matter itself, wrongly called a black hole, and completely refuted by Stephen J Crothers. The dielectric accretion disk is creating new matter that is flowing centrifugally outwards along the hyperbolic conical vortex of the galactic jets. Gravito-magnetism as conceived of by the fool Einstein does not exist, however the effect is real and is driven by a dielectro-gravimetric field which is –TIME and –SPACE (counterspatial). This is specifically a dielectric inertial effect of spinning electrical giant masses which generate enormous dielectric inertial planes and axially form matter generation.

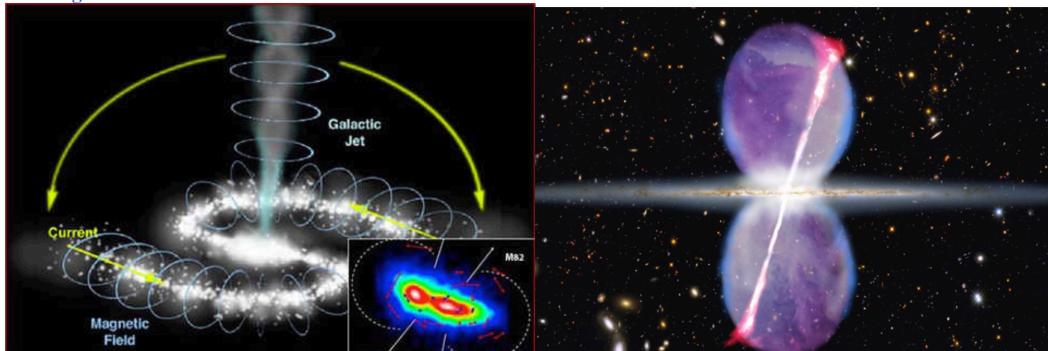

Galactic jets are extremely powerful jets of charged matter and gas, or plasma which emerges from presumed massive objects at the centers of some active galaxies, notably radio galaxies and quasars. Their lengths can reach several thousand or even hundreds of thousands of light years, literally many trillions of miles in very tight magnetic vortex formations; quite literally a multi-trillion mile needle of newly generated matter and plasma. The reality is that the magnetic fields in the accretion disk collimates the outflow along the rotation axis of the central point where the dielectric and magnetic forces are strongest and, of course, self-repulsing, so that when conditions are suitable, a jet will emerge from each face of the accretion disk. If the jet is oriented along the line of sight to Earth, relativistic beaming will change its apparent brightness. The mechanics behind both the creation of the jets and the composition of the jets is perfectly understood upon knowing the conjugate relationship, the geometry, and model of magneto-dielectricity. How they move, reciprocate, and how one affects the other. Logically so, studies of these galactic jets, or the birthing of matter itself from intense magneto-dielectric forces, have recently proved the obvious, that these jets contain matter.

In ignorance it has been stated that: “Ever since the first observations of these powerful jets, which are among the brightest objects seen in the universe, astronomers have wondered what causes the particles to accelerate to such great speeds.”. Obviously so these multi-trillion mile magnetic jets are the necessitated repulsion from the accretion disk which is electrical in nature, specifically natures natural electricity, dielectricity. The distorted galactic jets do not form typical permanent magnet reciprocating spheres because the accretion disk is so utterly massive and powerful, however the golden ratio symmetry is still preserved. The distorted magnetic field lines pull charged particles off the disk and cause them to gush outward at nearly the speed of light.

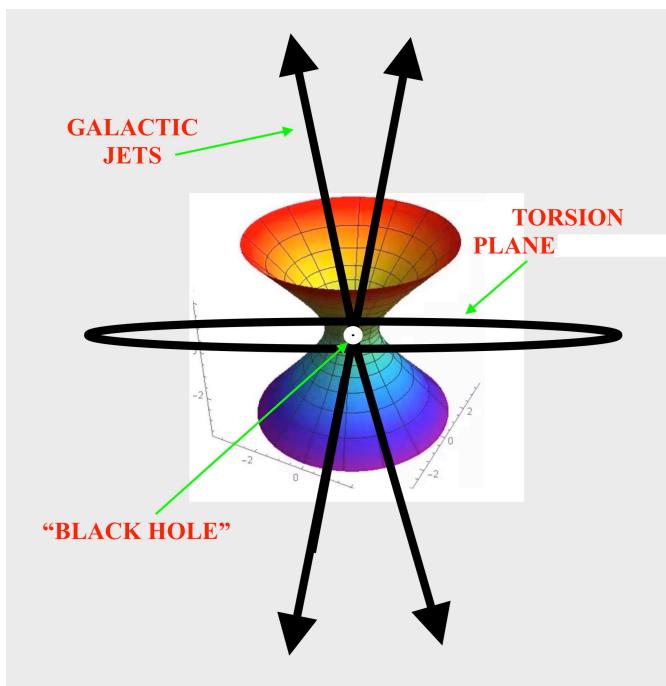

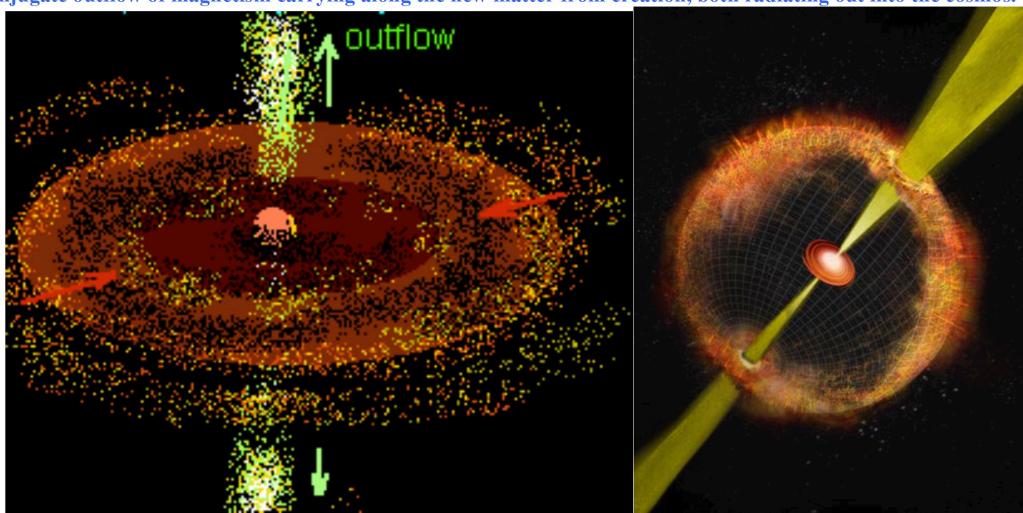

The intersection points between the dielectric and the magnetic creates a special spherical volume where no induction can occur, no light can propagate, there is no medium to “soak into”, this rare geometry is a special counterspace where the Aether has been completely displaced. The fools of GR and QM call this a “black hole”, but its definition and parameter all fail and have been disproved already in full. This special geometry, unlike normal Aether-counterspace, is utterly devoid of medium and field induction or propagation, electricity and light can enter where no reaction can occur. This special counterspace geometry is found at the center of every “magnet” but of insufficient power for anything of the immense magnitudes of galactic magneto-dielectric intersections where matter is generated and expelled, in the jets of plasma.

This special geometry is the one and only true ‘void’, since the Aether itself has been displaced, and ironically is the very same locus of new matter generation at the immediate apex point of super-powerful magnetic centrifugal vortexes along the circumferential points of the sphere where the dielectric and magnetic meet and (very hard to visualize but extremely simple) the magnetic field forces the super powerful dielectric charges to form new ionized elements, hydrogen and possibly helium as well. Quite literally a galactic ‘navel’ where the birth of new matter occurs. How archetypal of the ancient mythos which said the very same thing; how extremely prophetic, ironic, and amazingly accurate.

Below: Showing the centripetal charging and galactic jets on the left. On the right, importantly, showing the precessional magnetic jets in a galactic system that exactly mirror gyroscopic precession either dielectrically, or in a natural gyroscope. Notice the double hyperbola dumbbell shaped magnetic spatial dominances. This a perfect representation of a permanent magnet and illustrates both precessional torque along the inertial plane, which in the case of electrification, and is necessary for electrical generation.

Below: Showing centripetal flow in the galactic system which is delivering centripetal charge flow to the center of the system and conjugate outflow of magnetism carrying along the new matter from creation, both radiating out into the cosmos.

THE ATOM ITSELF

An atom is an Aether-condensate phenomena; is spherical frequency UHE (ultra high energy) light. Atoms are Ice nodules floating in the eternity of the Aether-Sea/Medium. All matter are transient phenomena either compounded (all atoms except for hydrogen) or uncompounded (hydrogen) in the sea of inertia (the Aether by definition). Pure potentiality (Aether) has no Cartesian reality or footprint. Actuality (=matter / atoms) is the negative image of inertia (Aether/Pure Potentiality) and has magnetism solely to blame for its existence in the temporal universe of phenomena. For the sake of logic Phenomena and Magnetism are one and the very same thing. Phenomena owes 100% of its existence and nature to and as magnetism solely.

ALL PARTICLES are capacitance-threshold light (i.e. HYDROGEN), all atoms other than hydrogen are compounded hydrogen. All so-called Neutrons are phase modalities of protons, such that all free neutrons spontaneously become protons.

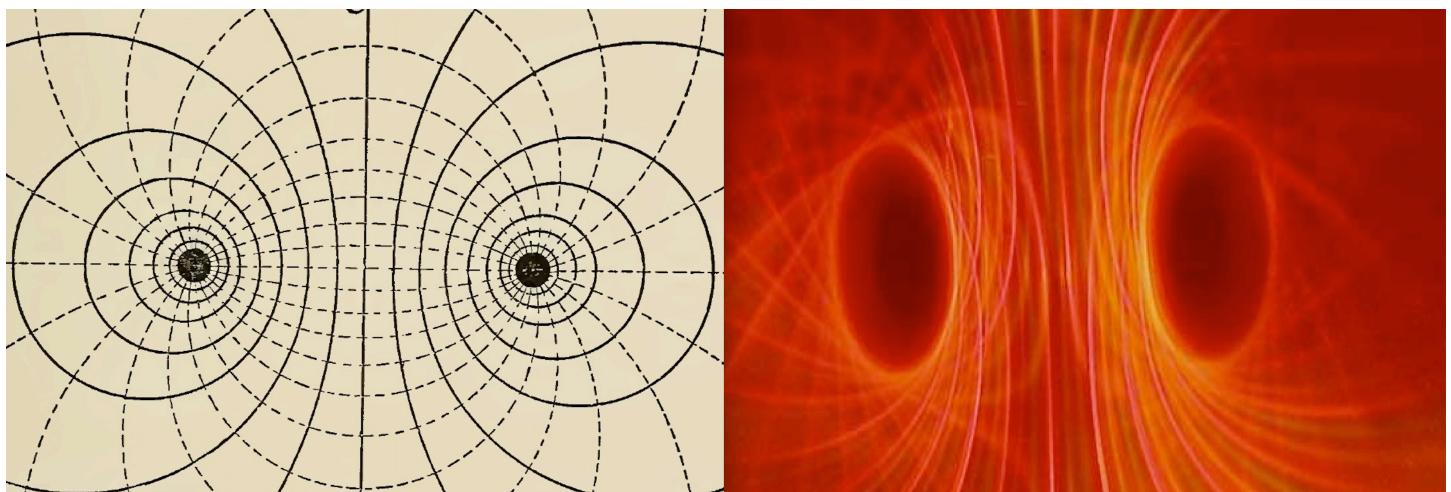

Nothing with a beginning in time can escape ultimate oblivion/destruction. Humans, swimming in ignorance see and believe the unreal (matter/atoms) to be the real, and the only Real (Aether/inertia) to be the unreal. A field is an Aether perturbation modality. An atom (matter) likewise in simple, is just a point source field modality. All spherical frequency field modalities (matter, ‘black holes’) are point source field modalities (natures Dynamo definitionally) and as such have no field-propagation attributional states (such as light, magnetism, dielectric, gravity).

A hydrogen atom (and other atoms) and a black hole are 100% exactly the very same thing, they are only differentiated by sake of their masses. All atoms are literally “baby black holes”.

The universes largest atom (a ‘black hole’) generates the universes smallest, most basic atom (hydrogen). The universes smallest, most basic atom (hydrogen) generates & compounds all atoms, is the basis for all mass, matter, & the vessel for life. Natures own 100% perfect, 100% efficiency recycling, from matter to super-matter (a ‘black hole’) which itself generates more matter (hydrogen) called by different names, such as galactic jets, astrophysical jets, & relativistic jets. Beginning begets end which generates another new beginning. All cycles terminate into the beginning of new cycles, this is the cuvilinear epoch of becoming and new-becomings.

ON THE PLANE OF INERTIA WHICH IS THE INVERSE OF MAGNETIC DIVERGENCE ALL SEPARATION IS A MEASURE OF CAPACITANCE (MOST DIAMAGNETIC ELEMENT, BISMUTH IS OF COURSE THE MOST DIELECTRIC IN CAPACITANCE, AND WILL DECREASE IN VOLUME WHEN MOLTEN!). IN THE CASE OF MATTER (OR MAGNET ABOVE) THE MASS IS NOT ALLOWED TO DECREASE UNLESS DIALED UP BEYOND THE ENERGY OF FATHOMABLE HUMAN ABILITIES, THIS IS THE NEAR-INCOMPRESSABILITY OF ATOMS/MATTER. HOWEVER IN THE CASE OF THE LIGHT CIRCUIT, IT MOVES THIS WAY. AN ATOM BY DEFINITION IS AT THE BARRIER OF INCOMPRESSABILITY.

On the left from CP Steinmetz's 1917 book ELECTRICAL DISCHARGES, WAVES & IMPULSES, is the most important diagram in the universe, alas of course its in 2D, but it forms the cross-section of the magneto-dielectric torus-hyperboloid. On the right is an image from the supercell of a magnet. Either black “hole” on either side are the “poles” (a magnet does not have poles, rather the inverse of counterspace, i.e. force vectors). A magnet in short is a field-laser, i.e. a point source object of field incommensurability.

This is natures energy-circuit geometry. However ALL SPACE is centrifugal, is magnetism generated (magnetism is merely the dielectric field, just as ice is the cold “field” of water!). If you could dial up the power of the magnet, its polar “holes” (SEE IMAGE BELOW) would enlarge, and if you could dial it up with the ENTIRE ENERGY of the solar system, it would blink out of existence, because dielectric OVERTHROWS magnetism’s ability to keep it within the universe as such, mass would still exist, but its magnitude (=magnetism) would vanish.

THE FIELD UNDER THE SUPERCELL OF A N55 GAUSS MAGNET, NOTICE THE LARGER DIELECTRIC “PORTAL” (“HOLE”). MAGNETISM IS MERELY THE DIELECTRIC FIELD, A STRONGER “MAGNET” IS NOT EQUAL TO MERELY STRONGER MAGNETISM, BUT A SMALLER SPATIAL MAGNETIC FIELD, BUT MOST IMPORTANTLY A STRONGER DIELECTRIC “DRAIN/SINK”. STONGER MAGNETS HAVE SMALLER MAGNETIC FIELDS AROUND SAME. THE SAME IS TRUE OF ALL ATOMS.

ANTIQUE & INSANE MODELS OF THE ATOM

False ideas of the atom model are as follows: Daltons solid ball model of the atom, likely the same since ancient history, little BBs of atoms. Thomson 1904 model of plum pudding which was positive pudding, with negative charge plums scattered throughout. Nagoka in the same year with a near Saturnian model of hula hoop electrons going around a nucleus. Rutherford's 1911 model was quasi-Saturnian model, with a nucleal center and a necklace of electron beads. Bohrs model of 1913 with “stuck electrons” in energy levels that cannot fall into the nucleus, and this disgusting model is essentially the very same idea we have to this day.

In 1925 we have De Broglie’s “electron wave” model of the atom, where the assumed “electrons” are wave packets around the nucleus. In 1926 we have another insane model that sticks to this day, the Schrodinger cloud model of the atom of charge potential of a “cloud” of charge, but with no specific electron ‘beads’, just potential.

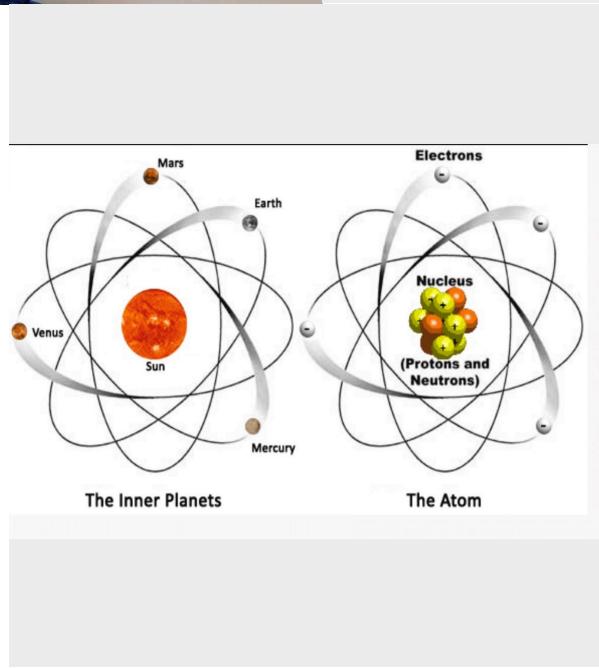

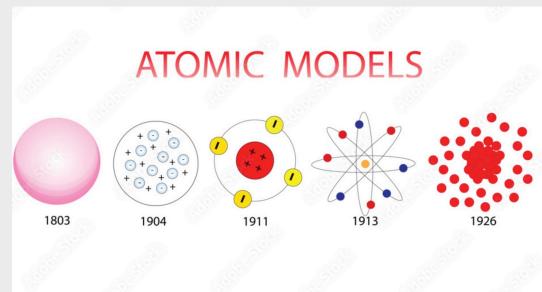

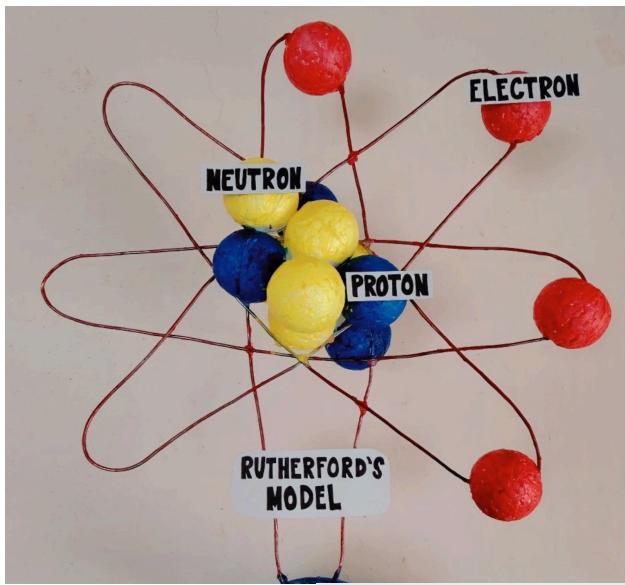

The only person to get “close” to the correct model of the atom, was W. Russell, however he gets it nevertheless wrong in denying nucleal particles in saying: “There are no nucleal particles at atoms centers, In fact there are only holes there like the ‘eye’ in a cyclone”. Russell is partially right however, since even a cyclone is a “thing” or entity, even though its center is calm/rest. A hole, also, is NOT A THING, rather an absence of something that is ringed by that very same something. At its superessential level Russell is right, since the ONLY atomic particle that ACTUALLY “exists”, the proton, is merely a cyclone of non-propagating high capacitance light.

Russell gets it very right in saying “matter/atoms are created by multiplying the speed of motion around a point of gravity”, which translated more simply meaning that higher and higher frequency MULTIPLIES capacitance around a rest node, which when that threshold is reached, is the creation of hydrogen, or the fundamental proton (which = hydrogen). Likewise Russells harmonic table of the elements is the most accurate, which are octaves of cathode-anode regions of atoms that follow predictable properties of all atoms. Russell speaks of “divided gravity” very often, and this is NO different than the divided dielectric (=nucleal particles) which of course is meant the magnetic field. Magnetism IS the dielectric field, just as ice is the “cold field” of water. Nature is supremely simple.

The most insane premise of all atomic models, either the debunked ‘cloud’ model or the planetary model both, is their mutual vociferous agreement that “most of an atom is 99.99999% empty space” (between the nucleus and the charged(ing) boundaries). This cannot be enjoined, logically or experimentally and is contrary to all observed phenomena. Between the nucleus and the charging boundaries is the spatial and counterspatial ‘air’ (Ether), which, analogously, props up the highly stable (in most cases) atomic structure, that being magnetism and the dielectric. The rotary inner vortexes inside (rather between) the atomic ‘sphere’ (complex atomic geometries actually) is a micro-turbine which induces charge, discharges, has capacitance, inductance, and has counter-to-counterspatial magnetism to prevent complete atomic dismemberment.

The atomic radius of different elements is specifically related to the magnetic-dielectric pressures within the atomic geometry. The larger noble gasses have greater internal magnetism, low dielectricity and resultantly have very low reactivity with other elements. The nucleal and the geometric charged (discharging) boundaries are atomic terminals, like a battery. Electrification affects this spatial/counterspatial geometry and likewise affects the spatial magnetism within it. Even in the ‘encapsulated balloon’ model of the atom of QM, the supposed ‘balloon’ has no ‘air’. The particle theory of atomic geometry must be summarily dismissed; it is by its very nature nothing more than rehashed Greek Atomism.

QUACKERY ANTIQUE MODELS OF THE ATOM WE ALL GREW UP WITH

DESTROYING THE IRRATIONAL NEUTRON & ELECTRON SCHEME OF THE ATOM MODEL

THE NEUTRON

Free neutron decay: A free neutron spontaneously decays to a proton, a mean lifetime of about 15 minutes. The cult of quantum states: "Protons are known to transform into neutrons through the process of electron capture (also called inverse beta decay). Neutrons can convert back to protons through beta decay, a common form of radioactive decay." However this is all patently false. The correction is that protons transform into neutrons by way of dielectric capacitance (there are no electrons), and neutrons can convert back into protons by means of a net loss of dielectric charge and therefore once again become magnetically induced (but this magnetic induction is merely about the particle, not within it, just like a conventional magnet) either in the atomic system or in total atomic ejection these same neutrons become protons because their superluminal particle geometries (not their ejection speeds) cause magnetic self-induction polarized dominance, and conversion or re-conversion into a proton.

Neutrons are the generative particle and protons are the result of electrical charge polarization (in the making) terminating about and coincident to the neutron to create a proton which is polarized and the creator of, in its superluminal nucleal platform as atomic dynamo, the charging 'prime mover' polarization particle of the atomic system. However as is the case the free 'neutron' (rather mass particle) is naturally magnetically induced and the premise for and of the hydrogen atom, the most prolific element in the cosmos. A neutron, in short, is just an PHASE MODALITY of a Proton, period.

As is typical, humans see the proton, as the 'positive' (not just in the sense of creating charges) particle, and the neutron as the do-nothing 'neutral' particle. However the case is just the opposite, the neutron is the first fundamental mass element, and the proton is the necessitated conjugate dominant particle in the universe (ala hydrogen) due to this fundamental mass element (the 'neutron') being immediately self-induced magnetically as a solitary particle and therefore the genesis of hydrogen.

Just as a DC transmission line creates a magnetic dominance around the electrical transmission, so too does the fundamental mass particle create its own induced magnetic attribute, thereby creating the proton, and hence hydrogen. As even GR and QM know, a neutron exists for very little time in the free universe before immediately becoming a proton, this time lapse is the building up of magnetic-induction of the dielectrically dominant neutron in rapidly becoming a polarized and charging system (in itself) proton. The only logical possibility to have a charging system, a power generator with a single mass particle, the proton, as elemental hydrogen, is by having this fundamental mass particle having a dominant magnetic induction about itself and its magneto-dielectric totality in nature is the genesis of the hydrogen system. The most elemental and simplex dynamo in the cosmos.

In short however, a so-called NEUTRON is “ice” whereas the PROTON is “water”, both are the exact same damn thing, and a Neutron is just a phase modality of a proton! HERE ENDED the idea of the autonomous neutron particle. There is only ONE fundamental atomic particle, the proton, and even THIS is merely a vortex of high capacitance light that can no longer propagate.

THE ELECTRON

“Electrons as a separate, distinct entity... doesn’t really exist, they are merely bumps in something called a ‘field’.” - Dr. Steve Biller

“Here we will dispel the “electronics nerd” concept that a capacitor stores “electrons” in its plates. Taking the pair of copper plates as in the previous experiment, but now we have two pairs of plates, one pair of plates distant from the other pair of plates. Upon one pair of plates is imposed an electro-static potential between them. The cube of 10-C oil is inserted between this “charged” set of plates. This hereby establishes a dielectric field of induction within the unit cube of 10-C oil. Now we then remove this cube of oil, withdrawing it from the space bounded by the charged pair of copper plates, and taking this unit cube of oil, it is then inserted into the space bounded by the other uncharged pair of plates. Upon insertion it is found that the un-charged pair of plates have now in fact become charged also. It here can be seen that a cube of dielectric induction can be carried through space, from one set of plates to another set of plates.” – E. Dollard

Also consider the J.J. Thomson concept of the “electron” (his own discovery). Thomson considered the electron the terminal end of one unit line of dielectric induction.

“Maxwell’s discovery of a factor of proportionality between dielectricity and magnetism led to his theory of conjugate pair of inductions, dielectric and magnetic, in union, propagating at the velocity of light through the ‘Luminiferous Ether’. Hence, electro-magnetic waves in free space, unbounded by gross physical matter, mass free energy. This propagation is within the dielectric, or Etheric, medium itself. It is free of so-called “charge carriers” (electrons), a mass-less form of electricity. This concept had a very powerful impact upon the scientific and philosophical thoughts of Maxwell’s era. So here begins the notion of “wireless”, the transmission of electricity without wires or other guiding structures.” – E. Dollard

“There is no rest mass to an ‘electron’. It is given here the ‘electron’ is no more than a broken loose “hold fast” under the grip of the tensions within the dielectric lines of energy. They are the broken ends of the split in half package of spaghetti. Obviously this reasoning is not welcome in the realm of Einstein’s Theory of Relativity.” – E. Dollard

“This gaseous Ether is the seat of electrical phenomena through the process of its polarization. This polarization gives rise to induction, which then gives rise to stored energy. Tesla gives a good presentation of his Ether ideas in his “Experiments with Alternate Currents of High Potential and High Frequency.” Mentioned previously, the Planck, Q, as the primary dimensional relation defining the “Polarized Ether”, this as an “Atom of Electricity”. It is however, from the views of J.J. Thomson, the Coulomb, psi, the total dielectric induction is the primary dimension defining the “Polarized Ether”. The lawyer like skill of today’s theoretical physicist (Pharisee) has erased this understanding from human memory, it is henceforth sealed by the Mystic Idol of Albert Einstein. If Einstein says no, then it is impossible. What a nice little package.” – E. Dollard

JJ Thomson developed the “Ether Atom” ideas of M. Faraday into his “Electronic Corpuscle”, this indivisible unit. One corpuscle terminates on one Faradic tube of force, and this quantifies as one Coulomb. This corpuscle is not an electron, it is a constituent of what today is known incorrectly as an “electron”. (Thomson relates 1000 corpuscles per electron) In this view, that taken by W. Crookes, J.J. Thomson, and N. Tesla, the cathode ray is not electrons, but in actuality corpuscles of the Ether.” – E. Dollard

Nikola Tesla November 1928 interview:

On the whole subject of matter, in fact, Dr. Tesla holds views that are startlingly original. He disagrees with the accepted atomic theory of matter, and does not believe in the existence of an “electron” as pictured by science.

“To account for its apparently small mass, science conceives of the electron as a hollow sphere, a sort of bubble, such a bubble could exist in a medium as a gas or liquid because its internal pressure is not altered by deformation. But if, as supposed, the internal pressure of an electron is due to the repulsion of electric masses, the slightest conceivable deformation must result in the destruction of the bubble! Just to mention another improbability...” - Nikola Tesla Article: “A Famous Prophet of Science Looks into the Future” (Popular Science Monthly)

“My ideas regarding the electron are at variance with those generally entertained. I hold that it is a relatively large entity carrying a surface charge and is not an elementary unit (particle). When the ‘electron’ leaves an electrode of high potential and in a high vacuum it carries an electrostatic charge many times greater than normal.” – N. Tesla

“To describe an electron as a negatively charged body is equivalent to saying that it is an expanding-contracting particle. There is no such condition in nature as a negative charge, nor are there negatively charged particles. Charge and discharge are opposite conditions, as filling and emptying, or compressing and expanding are opposite conditions.” – W. Russell

You cannot say that stretching a trillion rubber bands nailed to the floor and releasing them or breaking their “force lines” is the “flow of electrons”; discharge is a terminal movement in systems of inductance or dielectric capacitance. There are no discrete particles in the universe and certainly none that mediate charges, discharges, magnetism, electromagnetism, gravity, and radiation, only fields, all modalities of the Ether. The so-called ‘electrons’ are not particles, not objects or subjects but are the dynamic principle of discharge, and are certainly not charge-carriers, fields are not particles, are not “electrons”, nor assuredly are there energy discharges in the vacuum of space involving ‘electrons’; the ‘electron’ is a fiction of fallacious observation and an even more faulty mental acuity, spawned naturally from the minds of materialists, or an Atomist. Electricity is Ether in a state of dynamic polarization; magnetism is Ether in a state of dynamic circular polarization upon itself, is the radiative termination of electrical discharge; dielectricity is the Ether under stress or strain. The motions and strains of the Ether give rise to electrification. Phi times Psi gives Q; 'electrons' do not mediate these electrical and magnetic forces or their likewise the Ether fields. – Ken Wheeler
